In a letter last week to the INTERIOR JOURNAL J. W. Acton and M. G. Murphy made the following statement in regard to Kings Mountain Graded School: At a regular meeting of the board of trustees in May, when we retired as President and Secretary, Dr. Acton informed them that the tax had to be levied in June and that Murphy urged the secretary to see that the tax was levied in fiscal year. This was never put before the board in that way, but we were informed that we had plenty of time to levy the tax and all members of the board were willing to levy the tax at any time, but thought it not necessary to make the levy so early. We did not have a copy of the school law and failed to get one and were compelled to depend upon the retiring president and secretary, who did have the school law for information. In their letter they say they retired as president and secretary in May. Officers of the new board were not elected until the 4th day of June. In Murphy's statement he said he urged the secretary to see that tax was levied in fiscal year. On or about July 10th when Murphy was asked if he knew the time had passed to levy tax, he answerin June but didn't think there was any thousands yearly. But Electric Bit- Jailer, H. T. Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so of goods. distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Sold by New Stanford Drug Co.

The Great Animal Artist, George Ford Morris, Has Contributed His Genius to Give a Fit Setting For Sumptuous Work-Over $25,000 to Be Given

Th catalog of the big Blue Grass Fair, which is to be held at Lexington the week of August 3th to 14th, has been issued. It is a book of peculiar interest to all Kentuckians and is more extensive than the catalog of any previous fair ever held at Lexington. The cover itself is very attractive. It is a design especially drawn by the great animal artist, George Ford Morris, and is arranged in panels. The top panel shows the four classes of cattle which are of particular interest to Kentuckians, namely, the Shorthorn, the Hereford and the Aberdeen-Angus of the beef breeds, and the Jersey of the dairy breed. The lower panel, which is of corresponding size, shows the four recognized classes of horses which the Blue Grass Fair includes in its premium list, namely, the thoroughbred, the standard bred and the fivegaited and three-gaited saddle horse. The side panels give excellent pictures of sheep and hogs.

Over $25,000 to Be Given Away.

The premium list calls for a total distribution of more than Twenty-five Thousand Dollars, which is equitably divided among the varied classes of live stock. The most of this money is naturally offered for horses, because the Blue Grass Fair is conceded to be the greatest horse show in the world. Breeding classes are offered for the three recognized American breeds, the thoroughbrd, the standard bred and the American saddle horse. In each instance registration is made a requirement of entry. The show classes are thrown open to the world. They include the five-gaited saddle horse for which there are twelve rings; the three-gaited saddle horse with eight rings; the fine harness horse with twelve rings; the roadster with twelve rings, and the heavy harness horse with three rings. In addition there are premiums for miscellaneous classes of horses such as the runabout horse and the plantation saddle horse. There are classes for Shetland ponies and for ponies other than Shetlands of variant size to be shown under saddle and to harness.

Other Live Stock.

Very liberal provision is made for both mules and jack stock. Eleven hundred dollars is offered for Shorte James, Waynesburg, Ky., R. F. D. horn cattle; five hundred dollars for Herefords; six hundred and fifty for Aberdeen-Angus; seven hundred dollars for Jerseys. classes for fat stock, with such provisions that any farmer who has a steer of any merit can find an excellent place to enter him.

Departments for swine and sheep include the most important breeds of such stock. A large amount of money ment has been added this year which should appeal particularly to farmers, including as it does practically all classes of farm products grown in Kentucky. The Woman's Department carries a very excellent premium list.

There will be first-class harness and running races practically every day of the Fair. Among the former is a thousand-dollar stake for two-year-old trotters, which will be contested on Tuesday, August 10th, the second day.

Daily Program.

The opening day, Monday, will be given over to automobile races, which proved a most popular feature of last year's fair. This year many of the most noted drivers from every section of the country will compete.

On Tuesday morning, jacks and jennets and Hereford cattle will be shown and a number of classes of sheep and hogs will be judged in their pens. Besides the racing of Tuesday afternoon, there will be an excellent show program for various classes of horses.

Wednesday morning will have the breeding classes for standard bred horses, the Jersey cattle and more sheep and swine. Wednesday afternoon will be devoted to racing and to other excellent show classes, including trophy.

Thousand Dollar Stake.

On Thursday morning will come the breeding classes for American saddle horses, the Shorthorn cattle and the fat stock. And as a feature of Thursday afternoon's horse show will be the big Thousand Dollar Stake for fivein Kentucky.

Mules and Aberdeen-Angus cattle will hold the boards Friday morning, with another excellent horse show and racing in the afternoon.

Saturday, the closing day, will witness the greatest display of thoroughbred horses ever seen in the world, nearly ten thousand dollars being given in money and in seasons to help make the show. On Saturday afternoon comes the crowning show program of the week, when the champion-ships in all the horse classes will be Taken as a whole, this is the best and most complete show program ever offered by a fair in the south.

One Judge System.

As in previous years, the one judge system will be used for all classes save the championships for horses, when three judges, chosen from the regular list of horse judges of the fair, will be used in each class.

The catalog of the Blue Grass Fair is well worthy of careful inspection. Thousands of copies have been mailed all over Kentucky and other states, but anyone who has not received a copy and who desires one, will secure same promptly upon request to Secretary Jouett Shouse, at Lexington.

AUTOMOBILE RACING

Drivers of National Repute to Risk Lives at Blue Grass Fair.

It seems altogether fitting that the greatest horse fair in the world should show its appreciation of the importance of the most marvelous mechanical invention of the age.

The Blue Grass Fair at Lexington will give up its opening day, Aug. 9th, to a superior program of automobile racing. There is no other form of racing so thrilling to the spectator, so intensely interesting or indeed so dangerous as is automobile racing on a circular track. When a giant car is speeding around the turns at a rate of better than a mile a minute, any slip of a cog, any accident to engine or to tire is apt to bring about very disastrous results.

Such a program of races has been provided for Automobile Day at the Blue Grass Fair that the attendance of the most famous drivers in America is assured, and it is well within probability to prophesy that many records for various distances over circular tracks will be broken during that afternoon of sport. Not only will abundant events be provided for these drivers of national repute, and not only will stirring exhibitions against time be witnessed, but there will also be included in the program events for local cars, which are becoming numerous throughout Central Kentucky, so as to allow every opportunity to prove the comparative merits of cars owned in different parts of the state.

The Blue Grass Fair was responsible for a marked innovation among fairs when it put an Automobile Day on its program last year. The result of the experiment was so successful the evidences of interest on the part of the public so real, the attendance so large and the demand for a repetition so great that there was no hesitancy to provide an Automobile Day for this year's fair, and with the increased premiums which will be offered and the larger number of drivers who have al ready pledged themselves to compete, this day is certain to prove even more successful than was the Automobile Day of the 1908 fair.

The Blue Grass Fair Will Have Them All Topped in This Line.

At no other fair ever held in Kentucky have the conditions for the poultry exhibit been made so attractive as for the big Blue Grass Fair, which comes at Lexington the week of Aug. 9th to 14th this year. Entrance fees which have heretofore been required at practically all poultry shows, have been abolished by the management of the Blue Grass Fair, who, in their liberality and their desire to encourage the best possible exhibition, have been willing to do away with this source of revenue. Several years ago the association constructed a complete and up to-date house for the holding of its poultry show, a house where every convenience can be had by exhibitors, where the poultry can be displayed to the very best advantage. Not only are all kinds of chickens cared for in the premium list, but there are also classes for ducks, geese turkeys and pigeons, a total of 266 rings to the department.

The show will be under the manage ment of a committee composed of Messrs, O. R. Williamson, E. B. Wrenn and F. L. Smith, all of whom are prom inent members of the Blue Grass Poul try and Pet Stock Association and who are exerting their very best efforts to make the poultry show at the Blue Grass Fair the best ever seen in the

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Especially Attractive Provision For Children at Blue Grass Fair.

There will be especially attractive provision for children at the big Blue Grass Fair this year. On Saturday, August 14th, the closing day, the admission fee for children between the ages of six and twelve, which is generally twenty-five cents, will be reduced to fifteen cents, and among the children who attend on that day two Shetland ponies will be given away absolutely free.

Furthermore, the classes for Shetland ponies, which are always a great attraction for the young folks, will be shown on Saturday afternoon, and there will be other features that will serve to interest and attract and entertain the children which will not obtain during the other days of the fair.
